

How to Share a Device.

Use this to just share a single device rather than the family of devices.

In order to share a device to an account an account must be first created. Do this at the login screen.